Claimant:	Rojopitiavana Solofondrazaintsoanirina
Principal Place:	Lot II E 46 AB Ampanotokana, Antananarivo V, Antananarivo, Madagascar
Initial Publication:	May 17, 2026

To whom it may concern, and to all third parties, competing entities, and registration examiners, let it be known that the Claimant listed above asserts exclusive proprietary, ownership, and common law trademark rights over the word mark BIOMERALD™ (and any associated stylized graphics, fonts, or logos).

This document serves as a matter of public record to formally declare the open, continuous, and exclusive usage of the mark in commerce as an industry-standard source identifier. This explicitly encompasses its usage as a comprehensive biotechnology, biomedical, and life sciences media, news, and publishing, alongside specialized professional services and a concrete, good-faith intention to expand into physical consumer, health, and cosmetic trade classes.

Established and Active Use in Commerce

The Claimant has actively used the mark BIOMERALD™ in open trade and commerce since at least April 2026. The mark is prominently displayed on operational web domains, digital news media structures, marketing collateral, deliverables, and corporate correspondence as a unique source-identifier for the following professional services and online utilities:

Digital Media, Publishing, & News Platform: Operating an online information hub providing news, analysis, industry reports, and commentary covering the biotechnology, pharmaceutical, life sciences, and bioengineering industries; distribution of digital industry insights and multimedia publications (analogous to trade journals and industry news networks).

Consulting & Engineering Services: Specialized scientific counseling, corporate/academic/private technical advising, and engineering operations tailored to the biotechnology, biomedical, and life sciences sectors.

Technical Document Writing & Editorial Work: Generation, optimization, and structuring of highly specialized technical manuals, research documents, protocols, whitepapers, and scientific text for corporate, academic, and private clients.

Clear Intent to Use in Commerce (Upcoming Offerings)

In accordance with the ongoing expansion of the brand footprint, the Claimant maintains an active, bona-fide, and documented plan to utilize the mark BIOMERALD™ on upcoming commercial goods and digital products. Development, prototyping, formulation drafting, or manufacturing preparation is underway for the following specific categories:

Nutraceuticals, Dietary, & Herbal Supplements: Herbal health products, medicinal botanical extracts, vitamins, nutritional supplements, and bio-formulated therapeutic preparations for human consumption or wellness optimization.

Cosmetics & Skincare: Non-medicated topical cosmetics, skincare serums, plant-derived topical formulations, natural soaps, essential oils, and beauty preparations featuring specialized organic ingredients.

Digital Publications & Educational Media: Downloadable e-books, technical handbooks, online courses, instructional materials, downloadable industry trend reports, and digital product assets.

Branded Merchandise & Apparel: Consumer-ware including clothing items such as T-shirts, hats, and protective garments featuring the brand identity.

Processed Foods & Natural Beverages: Processed food formulations, food extracts, and beverages.

Verification & Formal Attestation

The undersigned declares under penalty of perjury that they are the rightful creator and exclusive owner of the brand identity detailed herein; that the information provided regarding active commercial usage is accurate; and that the intention to launch the upcoming product lines and media features is true, deliberate, and actively being pursued.
